CONSTANTIN LU

Sciences Po Student

The sailing club gave me some wonderful trips out to sea.

Published on 21 June 2023

As a student at the Europe-Asia campus of Sciences Po Paris, I was lucky enough to spend two wonderful years in the Cité Océane. I forged unique memories thanks to the people I met, the things I learned and, above all, the hours I spent wandering around the city.

I'll remember the drama club on my campus, but also the sailing club, which gave me some wonderful tripes out to sea. I'll also remember dynamism of Le Havre's solidarity movement, in particular the Le Havre des Familles associations where I met some wonderful people, but also the Athlés Solidaires race that we organised with other students to raise funds for the Raymond Lerch centre.

See you soon Le Havre !
