Published on 26 March 2024

The departure of the Transat Jacques Vabre Normandie -Le Havre on November 7 is an opportunity for the Land of Art and History Le Havre Seine Métropole to honor the maritime and port heritage of the urban community around the exhibition Le Geste et la Forme, coproduced with the public cultural cooperation establishment French Lines Compagnies.

A LARGE EXHIBITION WITH FRENCH LINES

Following the success of the exhibition The Pleasures of the Table aboard Transatlantic Liners in 2019, this new collaboration between Pays d'Art et d'Histoire and the EPCC French Lines & Companies presents a selection of black and white photographs from the funds from the Municipal Archives of Le Havre, the Salacrou library, the Maritime and Port Museum association, the ADIAS ACH association and HAROPA Port du Havre as well as two models and extracts from archive films.

Entitled Le Geste et la Forme, the exhibition visible until January 30 is structured around three themes (build, operate, repair) which allow you to rediscover shipbuilding yards, maritime terminals, docks and warehouses, refit forms and the floating dock.
