Give a helping hand

AFEV was created with the aim to support public policies and help fight against social and educational inequalities in working-class areas by designing a framework for the civic engagement of young people and, more particularly, students.

Each year, students get involved to provide individual support to a child or young person in a difficult situation.

By focusing on the needs of the child and his or her interests, this individual support goes beyond tutoring and provides an opportunity to work on the child's motivation, self-confidence, cultural openness, mobility, and autonomy.

The Pop'UP initiative enables the youths of Le Havre to get involved for others !

Carried out by the City of Le Havre, this initiative aims to provide each youth with the opportunity to fully live his or her citizenship. Pop'Up lets each youth decide which type of engagement he or she is interested in, with the ambition that they get involved at least once between the age of 16 and 25.
