A Summer in Le Havre

Every year in June, A Summer in Le Havre has been set up in the city to introduce you to monumental works and exhibitions.

A summer in Le Havre was born in 2017 to celebrate 500 years of the founding of the city and its port.

This exceptional anniversary was celebrated with an XXL summer program, festive, dense, lively designed and directed by artistic director Jean Blaise.

In 2017, 2 million people participated in the event. A success which made it possible to repeat the event until 2026.

Normandy Impressionist

In August, this multidisciplinary festival highlights, through multiple events, artistic creation in all its forms, from Impressionism to the present day : Impressionist exhibitions, contemporary art, photography, live shows, conferences, etc.

This event undoubtedly revisits this artistic movement, no longer limiting it to the idyllic representation of the landscape but placing it as a “witness of its time”, inseparable from the societal upheavals of the times.

"Held since 2010, Normandie Impressionniste is one of the major artistic events in France."

Béton Festival

In September, the Béton festival is a powerful combination of music, architecture, design and ecological values propelled over three days in several emblematic places in Le Havre.

Arranged and occasionally designed by musicians, local producers and other short circuit players, the places come to life, come alive and are discovered for total immersion in the urban world.

"Colorful, summery, good-natured, diverse, transgenerational, the Béton Weekend aims to be surprising and boldly mixes culture, walks and celebrations... to help you discover Le Havre in a different way."

Unlike the other events mentioned, Le Havre Seine Métropole is a partner of the event and not a financier.
