

PARKS & GARDENS

Since 2018, the City of Le Havre has been carrying out a public policy entitled “Le Havre Nature”, whose main purposes are to take into account environmental issues and help locals rediscover the benefits of nature in the city.

Le Havre Nature, a public policy with a strong commitment

Through several environmental initiatives, the City of Le Havre encourages the development of projects designed to improve your living environment and allow biodiversity to flourish.

The enhancement of existing natural spaces should create even tighter links between the Le Havre inhabitants and nature. “Le Havre Nature” also aims to provide you with natural spaces throughout the city to allow you to design community gardens, tend to them, and enliven them.

In Le Havre, nature is just around the corner !

You can quickly get away from the hustle and bustle of daily life by going for a walk on a hiking trail or in one of the many parks and gardens of the city.

Square Saint-Roch

Located in the heart of the city, Square Saint-Roch is a beautiful garden and the perfect spot for a relaxing stroll or a nice picnic lunch.

Château de Gromesnil

Located in Saint-Romain-de-Colbosc, the Château de Gromesnil is surrounded by a wooded park with over 400 century-old trees and a magnificent beech grove.

Now considered as a cultural and environmental landmark, the chateau – and its Renaissance style setting – remains a place of history and an exceptional venue that must be discovered during special events or when you visit the area.

Even though the building dates back to the 16th century, it was renovated at the end of the 19th century, when Louis-René Preverand de la Bourtrasse – then owner of the chateau – entrusted one of Viollet-le-Duc's disciples with the construction of two towers and the installation of roof dormers, inspired by the chateaux of the Loire Valley.
