

THE TASTE OF OTHERS 2021, AN ONLINE FESTIVAL

All online to listen to some of the writers and artists whose meetings were scheduled in Le Havre.

Published on 26 March 2024

An online edition

Since its creation, almost ten years ago, the Le Taste of Others festival has always been at the forefront of the creation of new literary forms to introduce writers, texts and artists to a wide audience. This particular year therefore had to have a special festival, an online edition which will bring together around the social networks of the festival, libraries, the La Galerne bookstore and the City of Le Havre this beautiful community of readers, enthusiasts but also curious people, who will want to hear the echo of an event now adapted to health conditions.

All online to listen to some of the writers and artists we wanted you to meet in Le Havre. A festival of podcasts broadcast every late afternoon on the initial dates of the festival (January 21 to 24, 2021), also as part of the 2021 Reading Night.

In the program

From Thursday January 21, a meeting with Philippe Besson on the occasion of the publication of his new novel The Last Child, followed by an interview with the philosopher Adèle Van Reeth (Les Chemins de la philosophie, France Culture).
